OUR MINISTER

To Berlin, Hon Theodore Runyon, Dies Suddenly.

The Distinguished Diplomat, Statesman, Soldier and Lawyer

Was the Victim of Heart Failure—The President Notified of His Death at an Early Hour Monday Morning—A Short Sketch of His Life.

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—Hon. Theodore Runyon, the American ambassador here, died of heart failure at 1 o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. Runyon had been feeling badly for several days, but Saturday he was apparently well again and went to the embassy.

THEODORE F. RUNYON.

He partook of an afternoon dinner with his usual appetite, and at 10:30 p. m. went to bed. He awoke at 12:30 o'clock Monday morning and stretched out his hand to his wife, seeming to be too ill to speak. Before Mrs. Runyon was able to summon assistance her husband began to breathe heavily. The doctor arrived at one o'clock but Mr. Runyon was then breathing his last, with the family at his bedside.

A private funeral service for the family will be held in the house Tuesday, and Thursday there will be a memorial in the Episcopal church, after which the body will be deposited in a vault pending the decision of President Cleveland whether it shall be conveyed to the United States on board a warship or taken to Newark, N. J., by private means. All of the foreign ambassadors and high officials of the German government have inscribed their names and residences in the visitor's book at the Runyon residence. The emperor drove to the house Monday morning and left his card. Mr. J. B. Jackson, first secretary of the American embassy, is in charge of the embassy.

Hon. Theodore Runyon was born at Somerville, N. J., October 25, 1822. He graduated from Yale college in 1842, and in 1844 was admitted to the bar. In 1853 he was made city attorney and in 1856 city councillor of Newark, N. J., a position retained until 1864, when he became mayor of the city. He was appointed in 1856 a commissioner to revise and codify the militia laws of New Jersey and in 1857 was made brigadier general and subsequently major general of the New Jersey national guard.

At the outbreak of the civil war he was placed in command of the New Jersey brigade of volunteers. In 1865 he was democratic candidate for governor of his state, but was not elected. From 1873 to 1878 he was chancellor of New Jersey. In March, 1893, he was appointed by President Cleveland American minister to Germany, and shortly afterward was made ambassador. The degree of L. L. D. was conferred upon him by Yale, Rutgers and Wesleyan colleges.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The state department was officially notified of the death of Ambassador Runyon in a dispatch received Monday morning from J. B. Jackson, first secretary of the embassy at Berlin. Secretary Olney, after consultation with President Cleveland, sent a message of condolence to Mr. Jackson, to be conveyed to Mrs. Runyon and the members of her family. This is about all the ceremony that will be observed in the matter except that telegrams of sympathy will probably be exchanged between Emperor William and President Cleveland.

A FORECAST

Of the Proceedings in the House of Representatives This Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The time of the house this week will be largely occupied in the consideration of appropriation bills. The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill is ready to be reported. Debate upon it may begin immediately. Under the rules, Monday is assigned to the District of Columbia, but as yet the committee on affairs of the district has placed before the house only two unimportant measures, relating to the study and practice of medicine. The diplomatic and consular bill will probably be good for several days' debate, and when it is disposed of, the District of Columbia appropriation bill will be ready for report to the house. The committee on elections, particularly committee No. 2, of which Mr. Johnson (rep., Ind.) is chairman, will be prepared with reports on one or two of the contests referred to them, in case the house should lack opportunity.

Inter-Lake Yachting Association. TOLEDO, Jan. 27.—At a meeting of the Inter-Lake Yachting association the Detroit Yacht club and the Buffalo Yacht club were admitted to the association by a unanimous vote. The next meeting will be held in Detroit February 12, at which time a commodore will be elected.

New and Interesting Happenings Within Our Borders.

ALLEN W. THURMAN

Issues a Circular to the Democrats of Ohio, Advising Them to Fight for Free Coinage.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 27.—Allen W. Thurman Monday issued a circular to the democrats of Ohio, advising them not to leave the democratic party but to continue their fight for free coinage in its ranks. He argues that the populist party is impotent, that the republican party has always been the enemy of silver. By perfecting their organizations in congressional districts now, the free silver democrats can assure the election of free silver delegates to the national convention and thus put an end once and for all to the greatest trust that ever existed—the gold trust. To adopt a gold platform at St. Louis means the sure defeat of the democrats in the national election. If both the democratic and republican parties adopt gold platforms the election of a republican to the presidency is equally assured.

Legal Fight Against the Insurance Commissioner.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 27.—The regular insurance companies are preparing to make a legal fight against the decision of State Insurance Commissioner Hahn to admit the Lloyds insurance companies to do business in Ohio. The lead in the matter is being taken by S. E. Kamp, of Dayton. They have secured ex-Gov. Foraker to conduct the fight, and it is likely the matter will assume a political aspect, as Foraker is a well known political enemy of Commissioner Hahn and will take pleasure in defeating him in the courts.

The Lloyds May Be Ousted.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 27.—The regular fire insurance companies doing business in Ohio have requested Attorney General Monnet to bring suit in quo warranto to oust the Lloyds from doing business in Ohio, under a recent ruling of State Insurance Commissioner Hahn. ## AID FOR CUBA.

A Most Formidable Expedition Leaves Philadelphia.

Gen. Garcia, Who Evaded Spanish Vigilance, at the Head of It.

On the High Seas He Will Be Met by Another Expedition on Board a Fruit Steamer—They Will Make for Some Port Near Havana.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—A morning paper says: Gen. Calixto Garcia, the most distinguished Cuban general now outside of Cuba, has escaped the watchful eyes of Spanish agents and has sailed from Philadelphia, it is said, on the fruit steamer Bernard, bound for Cuba.

Gen. Garcia goes to Cuba at the head of the most formidable expedition that has ever left this country, of which he will take command on the high seas, where he will meet another fruit steamer, the Jasof, with over 300 men on board and a large quantity of arms and ammunition.

From those familiar with Gen. Garcia's plans it was learned that the expedition will make for some port near the boundary line of the province of Pinar Del Rio and the province of Havana. Gen. Gomez is thoroughly informed of all the plans for the expedition, and at the point agreed upon for the landing of the expedition he will have a strong body of troops. Owing to his great popularity in that district it is expected that Gen. Garcia will at once place himself at the head of a strong body of men in the province of Pinar Del Rio.

Among Cubans in this country great hope is placed in this expedition. One of the drawbacks of the Cuban cause has been the lack of commanders, who combine both bravery and military sagacity. Should some misfortune befall either Gen. Maximo Gomez or Gen. Jose or Antonio Maceo, the Cuban cause would be in a rather embarrassing position.

Gen. Garcia, however, is fully competent to take either general's place at a moment's notice, and when news of the successful landing of his expedition reaches this country, there will be rejoicing among the Cubans.

THE RECORD

Of Turkish Outrages Exceed

Those of the Middle Ages.

Half the Christian Inhabitants of Birdjik Were Slaughtered.

At Harpoot, Destitution is Terrible Beyond

Comparison With Other Places Heard

From—At Cesarea the Situation

Has Improved—Work of Relief.

BOSTON, Jan. 27.—The following letter from Constantinople, under date of January 4, surveys the general situation in the disturbed districts of Turkey.

On December 31 a terrible slaughter of half of the Christian inhabitants of Birdjik took place. It is said that Kurds did these things. Panic prevailed at Angora and all along from there to Nocomedian last week. Some new danger has threatened Sivas. At Cesarea the situation has improved. At Harpoot destitution is terrible beyond all comparison with other places yet heard from. The total killed known is 12,708, and 5,004 houses have been burned. The area here included is about one-fifth of the whole devastated, but it seems likely that the losses are one-third of the whole. At Mardin it is still impossible to go outside of the walls of the city. At Bitlis there is more security for the missionaries, who will probably remain there all winter. Adana has suffered a good deal from panic. Hadjin is still safe, but reports are now circulating of trouble there. The college (male) of the American Board of Harpoot has commenced its classes. At Sivas the missionary schools have been reported, and are venturing out fairly well. Relief work grows apace. The duke of Westminster's committee has sent out $25,000 more. In Van about 9,000 people are being helped with funds sent Dr. Grace Kimball, of Bangor, Me., who has rented two public ovens feeding refugees. Consul Hapson, at Moush, reports the Sassoun villagers still safe, and is furnishing them with grain.

In Trebizond about five thousand people are being helped. At Harpoot relief work has been authorized, after pressure from English and American legations, and the first thousand has already been distributed.
